REG R14 – ENGINE TYPE

A race will be stopped immediately by race director, if forced by any driver who has chosen the wrong engine type for the race.

The driver must park the car in a safe area and immediately start informing race director to stop race by typing the command "Stop Race, Stop Race".

This applies for human technical mistakes only including:

- Wrong Engine Selection - (Ex: Due to Keyboard Malfunction)
- Wrong Engine Selection - (Ex: Due to Human Error)

A level 2 penalty (grid position penalty), will be given to drivers involved.

Important recommendation:

Race director will check if all cars have left the grid on race start, but it is highly advised that if a driver notices technical problems he must immediately start informing race director to stop the race by typing the command "Stop Race, Stop Race".

Extra information:

Drivers have to be patient and wait a couple of minutes, until race director works out the new race grid. After this procedure, there will be no need of any formation lap.
